MADISON METROPOLITAN SCHOOL DISTRICT

TEP

Transition Education Program

Our goal is to reduce barriers to school enrollment and achievement so that children from families who are experiencing homelessness have a full and equal opportunity to succeed in school.

Services include, but are not limited to:

- Advocacy
- School supplies
- Resource development
- Staff development
- Community education about homelessness and mobility
- Coordination with community partners
- Transportation

Transition Education Program (TEP)

TEP has served homeless children and youth since 1989.

Who is eligible for TEP?

Any school-aged student living in a shelter or other McKinney-Vento defined homeless situation is eligible. Families new to Madison may enroll immediately in the school of residence.

Current Madison families who become homeless may enroll their students in the attendance area where they are staying or, if feasible, continue to attend the school of origin.

Who is homeless?

Students who lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence, and are living in:

- A shelter
- Sharing housing due to economic hardship or similar reason
- Car, park, campground, abandoned building, or other inadequate accommodation
- Temporarily living in a motel or hotel due to loss of housing, economic hardship or similar reason
- Awaiting foster care
- Some Transitional Housing programs

A student may also be living in the above situations and not in the physical custody of a parent or guardian (unaccompanied youth).

What is McKinney-Vento?

- Federal Law reauthorized with NCLB 2002
- The law provides a definition of homelessness, rights to students and families and responsibilities to States and school districts
- Designed to provide equal access to educational services, as well as reduce barriers to enrollment, attendance, and academic achievement.
- The goal is to provide educational stability while experiencing homelessness

How many children experience homelessness?

- 1,168,354 children identified by U.S. Schools in 2011-2012
- 15,491 students in Wisconsin schools were identified as homeless in 2011-2012
- School districts in Dane County identified 1,696 students in 2011-2012

Where do they go at night?

In 2013, Dane County Shelters served 3,370 individuals and 473 families.

28% of individuals served by shelters in 2013 in Dane County were children.

69% of students identified by Madison Metropolitan School District in 2013-2014 were “doubled-up” and not in shelter.

Many families with children are living in cars, vans, abandoned buildings, camp grounds etc.

MMSD ensures that TEP students receive:

- school supplies
- regular classroom placement 4K-12
- breakfast and lunch Programs
- comparable transportation

And, if eligible:

- special education/early childhood
- title I
- summer school programming
- alternative programming

In addition, TEP provides or assists with:

- family/personal hygiene supplies and basic needs
- consultation and direct support to schools and families
- information about after-school programming
- training and professional development in schools and community
- networking with community agencies and other school districts to provide seamless service delivery
- transportation to school related events, activities, meetings (while homeless)
- transition into new school(s)
- referrals and advocacy to community agencies as needed
- medical, dental and mental health advocacy and information
- referrals to Head Start
- support for students interested in pursuing advanced education.
